Citizens inputs will make Jigawa 2021 budget - Commissioner

From Mikail Tsoho, Dutse

As part of its effort to keep running a listening and inclusive government, the Jigawa state government said, it will give more priorities on citizens inputs for the proposed 2021 budgets.

The state commissioner of finance and economic planning Alhaji Babangida Umar Gantsa dropped the hint while speaking at 2021 budget town hall meeting for CSOs and other stakeholders organised by Budget and economic planning Directorate in collaboration with ELIP-initiative held state secretariat Dutse.

He explained that, the present administration in the state came-up with initiative with aims to give chances to every Jigawa citizen and contribute his quota in the formation of 2021 budget to make it more effective and reliable.

According to him, the meeting was organised in three senatorial zones for more citizens participation across the state.

He then assured the

Okowa approves expansion of DELSUTH

By Nosa Akenzua, Asaba

Governor Ifeanyi Okowa has approved the expansion of the operations and land mass of the Delta State University Teaching Hospital (DELSUTH), Oghara.

The Chief Medical Director of DELSUTH, Oghara, Dr Osime Ogueh disclosed this while playing host to the leadership of the Nigeria Medical Association (NMA), Delta State Chapter, led by Dr Nwose Ossai at the weekend.

Dr Ogueh said that the expansion was predicated on the need to make the hospital serve Deltans and Nigerians in full capacity, saying that presently, hospital's land size was smaller compared to that of other teaching hospitals.

He thanked Governor Okowa for the approval and added that the process of acquiring more land for the hospital had begun.

inclusion of 99 percent of citizen's advice and contributions in the 2021 budget.

While making his remarks during the meeting, the executive director ELIP-initiative (PMP) comrade Isah Mustapha said, PMP will keep doing it best in tracking and monitoring to ensure the citizens inputs in the budget.

PDP Governors, Atiku, Secondus, Obi congratulate Obaseki, Shaibu

By Lateef Ibrahim, Abuja

Governors elected on the platform of the Peoples Democratic Party, PDP, the party's presidential candidate in the 2019 general election, Alhaji Atiku Abubakar, his Vice, Mr Peter Obi and National Chairman of the party, Prince Uche Secondus have congratulated the re-elected Governor of Edo State, Mr Godwin Obaseki, on his victory at the Saturday's election.

Obaseki defeated his main challenger and candidate of the All Progressives Congress, APC, Pastor Chigzie Ize-Iyamu as well as twelve other candidates at the poll.

The PDP Governors, in a statement by its Chairman and Governor of Sokoto state, Hon. Aminu Waziri Tambouwal, described Obaseki's victory as a testament to the triumph of justice, hardwork, resilience, grit, forward planning, clinical execution and reward for improving the lot of the people of Edo State.

The statement by the PDP Governors reads, "The PDP Governors' Forum hereby congratulates His Excellency, Mr Godwin Obaseki, as the Governor-elect of Edo State.

"Your victory in the just concluded governorship election is a testament to the triumph of justice, hardwork, resilience, grit, forward planning, clinical execution and reward for improving the lot of the people of Edo State.

"As the flag bearer of the Peoples Democratic Party, PDP in the election, you validated the well known fact that Edo State is truly a PDP dominated State. It is a resounding endorsement by Edo people of your performance in the last 4 years. It is an absolute rejection by Edolites of Godfatherism and imposition of their leaders by forces from outside the State.

"Your election has rekindled the hope of Nigerians, that a free and fair election is still possible in Nigeria.

"We single out INEC, the electoral umpire for special commendation as it didn't allow itself as an institution to be manipulated into subverting the clearly expressed will and wishes of the people of Edo State.

"We applaud the security agencies for their fairness and relative neutrality in the conduct of the elections.

"In all these, special thanks must go to the President, Commander in Chief, Muhammadu Buhari, GCFR, for keeping his word not to unduly interfere in the elections by using state machinery.

"We in the PDP Governors' Forum wishes to place on record our appreciation of the hardwork, dedication and commitment exhibited by the National Chairman of the PDP, the PDP National Working Committee, the leadership and members of the Edo State Chapter of the party and in particular the Edo PDP Campaign Council led by His Excellency, Governor Nyesom Wike and other Governors of the PDP.

"We also thank our party stalwarts in Edo State and other PDP leaders and stakeholders for working together to deliver Edo State to PDP.

"It now behoves on the governor-elect, Mr Obaseki, to reciprocate the support of the people by doubling his effort to sustain good governance and accountability to the people of Edo State who have invested their trust and confidence in him.

"Even as a PDP governor-elect, we trust that you will govern with fairness to all Edolites irrespective of party affiliation or support for you. The Edo people have spoken and democracy has triumphed. It is indeed the will of God", they said.

Former Vice President and presidential candidate of the PDP, Alhaji Atiku Abubakar described Obaseki's victory as the end of godfatherism in Nigeria and the dawn of a new dawn.

Atiku, in the statement personally signed by him said, "The end of godfatherism has come in Nigeria.

"There is a new dawn in Edo State, and the hard won victory of Governor Godwin Noghghase Obaseki is not just a victory, but a Declaration of Independence from the anti democratic forces of godfatherism and militarism. No victory could be sweeter than this, and I heartily congratulate the Governor, and the good people of Edo state for their resilience in the face of the forces arrayed against them.

"Edo has a rich history as the centre of Black civilisation, and to this, she is adding a new history as the bastion of Nigerian democracy.

"This double whammy of ancient and modern glories is a testament to a people who have for centuries set the pace as a beacon of light on the African continent.

"I most heartily congratulate the Peoples Democratic Party, who stood shoulder to shoulder, with the people of Edo and their Government, in good times and bad.

"We, in the PDP, have shown that we are not fair weather friends to the good people of Edo. In good times, we will walk beside you. In bad times, we will be your true 'comrade'.

"We will never be a turncoat. We will never abandon the principles we once espoused, so we can dine with our nemesis. Democracy has no nemesis. And this, the PDP has again proved.

"I look forward to the continuation of four more years of tangible development, and people-centred leadership from Governor Obaseki.

"I also seize this opportunity to thank His Royal Highness, the Oba of Benin, Omo N'oba N'Edo Oki Akpaphokhe, Eweare II, for the fatherly role he played as a neutral catalyst for peace.

"That this election was, by and large, free from violence, is a testament of the long and effective shadow he casts over his domain.

INTRODUCTION:

Participatory governance is one of core principle of good governance, it gives a very citizens' a sense of belonging, strengthen inclusion and community ownership for improve service delivery. As a leading Civil society organization working on policies, public financial management and social auditing Exceptional Leadership and Integrity Promotion Initiatives (ELIP Initiatives) formally known as Project Monitoring Partnership (PMP) has been collecting and collating citizens' inputs into Local Governments State and Federal Budgets plans and policies for over a decade through its local chapters across all the 30 constituencies and 126 branches across the 286 in Political wards in Jigawa State.

At ELIP-Initiative we believe that, delivering effective service delivery requires multi-facet approaches and entails translating ideas, manifestos and aspiration into plans. Plans translate goals and objectives into provision of goods and services and societal development through budgets implementation. Among the prerequisite for achieving societal development a long, medium- and short-term plans were developed.

Therefore, in the spirit of open governance, co-creation and effort towards institutionalization of participatory budgeting processes at all strata of society to support participatory budget ELIP-Initiative coordinate and facilitates the collection of citizens demand in all the 30 constituencies of the state and collaborate with budget and economic planning directorate and host townhall meetings for CSOs and key stakeholders on 2021 budget. Inputs from these two processes were compiled and submitted to relevant MDAs for 2021 budget preparation and implementation.

It is pertinent to note that, the percentage of citizens' inputs reflected and implemented into budgets especially state budgets keep on increase from less than 15% in 2009 to 35% in 2020 with projects cost between 20-35 billion Naira.
